LOCAL CLUBSTERS BUY PURE BREDS

Financial Aid Provided Youngsters In Their Drive To Improve Their Stock

Indications are some forty or fifty Bulloch county 4-H Club boys will purchase pure bred gilts that have already been bred through the co-operative effort of the Production Credit Association.

Josh T. Nesmith and W. H. Smith have listened to the pleas of some of the boys and stated the Statesboro Production Credit Association would work with them. The boys met with the county agent and the PCA officials Saturday to work out final details for the money to pay for the pigs.

Walter Aldred, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is asking some member of his group to serve as an advisor to the clubsters and to visit the clubster and his project at least twice during the next twelve months.

The clubsters are interested in the project from several angles. First, they think they can make some money, and at the same time be increasing the number of good hogs in the county. They plan to take the proceeds from these gilts and put it into better gilts as years go along. Then, too, they will have a chance to prove to Statesboro businessmen that they can grow good projects that are remunerative to themselves as well as to help their communities.

These boys live in all sections of the county. The blue blooded hogs will make available to anyone that wants prebreds the breed they want right at home.

Mr. Smith stated that it is purely a business proposition, and that the boys will be doing big business as farmers before long. Starting off now to learn some of the principles involved in borrowing money and the necessity of keeping up with their obligation will also be good training for them.

The Chamber of Commerce will assign its members as advisors when the boys entering the better hog movement are definitely known.

FIGURES REVEAL PER CAPITA GAIN

Business Conditions Are Grating Despite Small Decline In Our Population

Bulloch county's population continued to decline in 1948, according to data released by the U. S. Department of Commerce. The population declined from 22,700 in 1947 to 22,400 January 1, 1949, according to the estimates.

G. Stovall, district manager of the department, points out that the people in Statesboro should be proud of the retail sales figures for 1948 which climbed from $13,849,000 in 1947 to $14,071,000. Several statements have indicated this to be among the highest in the nation as well as first in the state on a per capita basis.

The effective buying income rose from $15,558,000 in 1947 to $16,046,000 in 1948. Mr. Stovall stated in a letter to the Chamber of Commerce on economic conditions in Statesboro and Bulloch county. The average per family income also continued to rise along with these other data when it went from $2,935 in 1947 to $2,971 per family in 1948. Income of this nature is what makes Statesboro a healthy trading center.

LOCAL DRAFT BOARD NAMES DATES TO OPEN
Effective July 25 the local draft board in election to be held on Saturday, July 23rd. Every person, whether landholder, or tenant, that has any interest in a 1949 crop of tobacco is entitled to vote, and by all means should vote in the affirmative FOR the three-year control program.

A failure to carry this election in the affirmative will mean an uncontested production with resulting overproduction and low price, and in addition it will mean the loss of our government floor price of ninety per cent of parity which has meant so much to the tobacco producers in the past two years and will mean much more in the future years.

TOBACCO GROWERS URGED TO VOTE

Will Have Responsibility To Decide Important Issues Facing Farmers

Every Bulloch county tobacco grower is urged by R. P. Mikell, president of the Farm Bureau, to go to the regular voting places Saturday and vote on the tobacco referendum.

The Farm Bureau has always maintained that control programs should be put into operation only after the farmers have expressed themselves through a democratic process, then if the majority wants the controls, put them into effect, and if they don't want controls, leave them off.

Voting Saturday on whether or not tobacco controls will be extended is a part of this process. The size of the vote is also important. Mr. Mikell thinks. If only a few turn out to vote, Congress will think farmers are not interested in their problems. Mr. Mikell wants a large vote, regardless of the outcome.

Voting either for or against the controls tells the Farm Bureau officials what plans to develop for agricultural legislation. Although the Farm Bureau has no connection whatever with AAA or what is now known as PMA, it is interested in helping to work with its members on programs under the direction of the agency, or any other agency working with farm people.

Polls will be open from 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. at the following regular voting places: 44th community club house; 45th, court house; 46th, court house; 47th school house; 48th school house; 129th, court house; 134th, court house; 152nd, court house; 154th, court house; 157th, court house; 180th, court house.

Mr. Foxhall declares he does not see any need to rush the crop to market. He thinks orderly marketing will pay the growers. Just because the entire crop is cured, he sees no reason for a rush to sell it. The stabilization program will be in effect again this year and it will prevent any material drop in price below support levels.

Walter Aldred, president of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that the business men want to see local farmers patronize the local market, and that he believes they will. These men have spent too much time and money on the market for local growers for them not to co-operate to keep the market strong and the largest in Georgia. He does not wish that just because the market happens to be blocked the day a local grower wants to sell, is reason enough for them to forget the efforts in the past to give Statesboro a good market. Business men and farmers co-operating can and will keep the market strong.

The Chamber of Commerce has allocated $500 to advertising the local market, and this fund is being matched by the warehousemen.

Mr. Aldred hopes that the market will sell even more poundage than it did in 1948, when it led the state with 12,906,434 for an average of $46.98 per hundred.

The Statesboro market was opened in 1928 (21 years ago) with 2,306,288 pounds that sold for $10.76 per hundred. The largest year was in 1946 when it sold 14,458,456 pounds.

The some $6,000,000 brought into Statesboro last year paid off a lot of debts and stimulated business materially, Mr. Aldred stated. He sees no reason why the 1949 season can't be just as good.

Foxhall Strong For Tobacco Referendum
H. P. Foxhall, local tobacco warehouseman, stated today that he and his firm wished to urge every tobacco planter in this section to vote FOR the THREE-YEAR tobacco control program in election to be held on Saturday, July 23rd. Every person, whether landholder, or tenant, that has any interest in a 1949 crop of tobacco is entitled to vote, and by all means should vote in the affirmative FOR the three-year control program.

A failure to carry this election in the affirmative will mean an uncontested production with resulting overproduction and low price, and in addition it will mean the loss of our government floor price of ninety per cent of parity which has meant so much to the tobacco producers in the past two years and will mean much more in the future years.

Farmers Continue Fish As Brain Food

The Ogechee Farm Bureau served 150 pounds of Ogechee river "red breast" perch to the some ninety people present Tuesday night. Emlt Lee, I. V. Simmons, George Harold Miller, Pat Quattlebaum, J. W. Ellington and L. T. Bradley were the fishermen involved in catching the fish. They assured those at the meeting that they had as much fun catching the fish as the group had eating them. Mrs. Lee stated that the cooking was right much of a job, but they did enjoy seeing the group eat so heartily.

E. D. Shaw, the Ogechee president, had arranged a different type of program that went over good. He had procured Lawrence Barrs, Jimmy and Roland Brannen and Miss Mildred Barrs along with their "hillbilly" band instruments for a musical program. These young people have fully qualified themselves for such programs by equipping themselves with an electrical set of instruments and public address system. The group voted to ask Congressman Preston Anderson to introduce legislation to support the federal aid to education bill.

Eli Hodges, Elton Sims, Roger Deal and their committee served a chicken supper Wednesday night. Mr. Hodges stated they cooked the forty-two fryers for the some 125 present. The Red Cross blood bank will soon be operating in Bulloch county and rural people are definitely invited to participate in giving blood as well as receiving it when needed. H. R. Christian announced to the Warnock group. Mr. Christian is local representative for the Red Cross on the blood bank movement.

Barney Bowen, H. V. Anderson and A. C. Anderson provided a barbecue supper for the Sinkhole group Thursday night. At this meeting R. P. Mikell, the county president, gave a report on the August meeting when all the Farm Bureau leaders from the thirteen Southern States, as well as national officers, met in a large school last week. There were twenty people from Bulloch county that attended the meeting

The CS Rooster Looks at Piggy Banking

Said the CS Rooster to the piggy bank,
Shop Colonial Stores and it's me you'll thank.
If you want to save, there's no better way
Than to shop at Colonial Stores every day.

Real thrift is not a some-time thing. Nobody knows this better than the homemaker who shops week in and week out. She realizes that it isn't the occasional saving on a few items but regular savings every day that count.

Colonial's policy is to offer all items at low prices, and to offer them all week long. Prices you see on Friday or Saturday are still in effect the following Wednesday.

In addition to regular low prices, you'll find frequent "bonus specials" at your Colonial Store—extra savings resulting from advantageous purchases and lower market conditions which we always pass on to you.

Start, today, to notice the difference. Your penny-banking becomes big saving when you shop Colonial.

For consistent savings every day,
Shop the CS Rooster way.

With Nancy Hanks II beginning her third year of operation, every effort will be continued to maintain the high level of service and courtesy which has been characteristic of this train, according to a representative of the Central of Georgia Railway in town this week on business for his railway.

The railway management, he said, is appreciative of the patronage from Statesboro and surrounding territory, and is desirous of being as helpful as possible in any way to travelers.

Streamlined Nancy celebrated her birthday last Sunday, July 17, and at the end of these two years shows a record of having handled 354,839 passengers, proof that streamlined train service at low round-trip fares is needed and desired in Georgia.

GEORGIA ADVANCES ALONG REAL LINES

Semi-Monthly Letter From Department of Commerce Reveals Progressive Steps

That which follows herewith, pertaining to the various progressive activities in Georgia communities, has been copied from a five-page bulletin issued by the State Department of Commerce, of which Clark Gaines is secretary.

PARADE OF PROGRESS

From VIDALIA comes the report that eighteen acres of land have been purchased as a site for a new farm-ers' market. Approval has been given by the Georgia Department of Agriculture, and the market is expected to be built in the near future. This market will mean additional thousands of dollars to farmers in this territory and is equally as important as an individual payroll in a new industry.

The LAFAYETTE Chamber of Commerce announced recently that the Linwood mill and accompanying properties, excepting the bulk of dwelling houses, has been sold to Ely and Walker, St. Louis, Mo., manufacturers and distributors. The new owners, a nationally known firm, will use the mill properties as a warehouse and distributing point and are scheduled to assume occupancy in July. They will employ from 100 to 125 at first.

Representatives of Ely and Walker revealed that the firm hopes in a year to build a new plant on the property and establish a manufacturing as well as a distributing center. Officials speculated that such a plant would employ 700 to 800 persons. Ely and Walker specialize in various types of manufacturing, including textiles and luggage.

In MONTEZUMA, a corporation to erect a building for a woolen mill has been formed and bids will be accepted soon, according to recent reports. The $65,000 corporation is headed by John T. McKenzie as president. Shawmut, Inc., purchased $40,000 of the stock, and local citizens took $25,000. The building will be leased by the Wanta Corporation, manufacturers of children's underwear and other garments. The mill will employ about 300 persons from Macon county.

The Miller Dress Company at BAXLEY is the newest development in that city. A new building to house this concern is now in process of construction. The building will be a one-story brick construction on U. S. Highway 1, on the southern edge of Baxley. Training of machine operators has already begun in temporary quarters. Working in co-operation with H. A. Miller, owner of the garment factory, Secretary John Wilson, of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that about 200 women have already applied for employment in the new industry.

One of the newest additions to industry in COLUMBUS is the Dixie Furniture Manufacturing Company. The new firm started operations in June and is at present using twenty-five employees to manufacture up-
